

“I have a fantastic educational program for students, why aren’t teachers calling?”

A FREE workshop for education program providers to learn tools for aligning program curriculum with state educational standards.

Tuesday, February 7, 2012

2:00 – 5:00 pm

Napa City-County Library

Hosted by the Environmental Education Coalition of Napa County (EECNC)

RSVP to frances@naparcd.org or 707-252-4188x116

Agenda

2:00 – 3:00 Getting your message into the classroom - Opportunities and constraints for helping teachers meet their instructional needs

Chuck Neidhoefer, Administrator, Napa Valley Unified School District

- Instructional goals of teachers across the grades
- Integrating English and other subjects into your presentations
- Effective marketing of education programs to teachers

10 min break. Refreshments provided by Napa Co Dept. of Environmental Management

3:10 – 4:30 Correlating education programs to state curriculum standards

Lori Mann, Environmental Education Consultant

- Introduction to California State Standards across the grade level, with particular focus on science and English standards
- The correlation process, and what “correlation” means
- Small group activity: Correlating a learning activity to state standards
- Formats for conveying correlations to teachers
- Lessons from developing environmental education programs

4:30 – 5:00 Q & A with Chuck Neidhoefer & Lori Mann

